

Join us at the High Plains Organic Conference

Feb 11-12 | Laramie County Community College

The High Plains region is centered around grain and cattle production. The National Transition to Organic Partnership Program (TOPP) will host two sessions, starting off a Buyer's Showcase. During this session, buyers of all certified organic crops will discuss 2025 market opportunities. This will be followed by a panel discussion on marketing opportunities for complete crop rotation.

Day two will have a presentation and discussion on the Organic Meat Marketplace. While Organic Beef sales grew by 25% last year—most of those sales were captured by overseas producers. What are the opportunities for US-grown beef, and what do processors need to do to meet that demand? This session will provide practical insights and strategies to compete in the organic marketplace.

Register for FREE Attendance

NATIONAL TRANSITION TO ORGANIC
PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Organic
trade association
SINCE 1985

RODALE
INSTITUTE™

This session is supported through the USDA Transition to Organic Partnership Program. TOPP is administered by the USDA AMA and NOP.